January 1, 2022

Riikun Japan Public Relations

Happy New Year everyone!

I look forward to working with you all this year!

Last year, as in the year before last, the new coronavirus infection continued to rage, and since the end of last year, the Omicron strain has been raging, and another pandemic is possible.

I would like to express my sympathy to those who have been affected by the new coronavirus infection and wish them a speedy recovery.

Starting this year, I will try to provide articles that can be enjoyed by people in Japan and overseas.

We hope that you will understand and cooperate with us this year as well.
